Third Edition
THE LATEST.

In Brief.

National Associated Press to the Star. PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—At 11 o'clock a. m. O'Leary had accomplished seventy miles.

NEWARK, Dec. 3.—Studding & Wales, dry goods merchants, are embarrassed. Liabilities, $50,000.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 3.—Thomas Howell, the well-known patent-leather manufacturer, died to-day.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 3.—The Cincinnati Southern Road case, involving the two-million bond question, is being argued before the Supreme Court to-day.

THE METROPOLIS.

Butter and Cheese.

National Associated Press to the Star. NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The International Dairy Fair, in the American Institute building, was formally opened last evening, about a thousand being present. Franklin Elton, of the Produce Exchange, presided at the opening, and after making a brief speech introduced Ex-Governor Seymour, who gave a lengthy address, in which he spoke of the great benefits that would arise from a friendly competition in the manufacture of butter and cheese. Over $5,000 is announced to be distributed in prizes, and the Fair will continue open until Saturday next.

Sinking an Ice Barge. Last evening at ten minutes to 7 o'clock the steamer City of Troy, while on her way up the Hudson, ran into and sunk an ice barge belonging to the Knickerbocker Ice Company. The City of Troy was but slightly injured, and continued on her way up the river. No one hurt.

Leaves for Liberia. The new bark Monrovia will sail to-day for Liberia with some thirty steers and five cabin passengers. With the exception of three cabin passengers, who are white missionaries of the Presbyterian Church, the passengers are all colored people, who intend settling in Liberia.

Lines of Secretary Thompson. A special from Washington says that Secretary Thompson was taken seriously ill at his breakfast table yesterday morning, and was carried to his room. His family were much frightened, but they say it is nothing more than a severe attack of vertigo.

Sheridan's Sugar Plantation Suit. The United States Circuit Court, Judge Wallace, was crowded yesterday in anticipation of hearing the suit against General Philip H. Sheridan. The General was present, having received a special leave of absence from the Government. Attention was called to the case by General Sheridan and General B. F. Butler, who, with Scott Lord, was counsel for the plaintiff.

Ravages of Diphtheria. Thirty-two deaths of diphtheria occurred in two weeks in Geneva, this State, mostly children from one to sixteen years of age.

New York Press on the Message. NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Herald this morning says: The President in his message evinces good sense and sound discretion, both in what he says and what he omits.

The World points out wherein the President is inconsistent on the Southern question.

The Tribune says: It is a very plain document. We congratulate the country upon the firm stand the President has taken with respect to the Southern question.

The Witness says: Brevity and good sense are leading characteristics of the document.

The Sun says: Hayes fully intends to recognize the great and pressing questions of the times, and to make any new suggestions worthy of a man of affairs.

The Star says: On the whole the message is mild and conservative, admitting there may have been some irregularities in certain portions of the South, as there have been usually at the North. The President himself concludes, in a portion of the message, that on the whole the elections were fair, and that all the disturbing influences, real or imaginary, had been removed from all those States.

FOREIGN.

By Mr. Ward, of Penn.—To abolish the tax on matches.

By Mr. Ramsey, of S. C.—To regulate the manner of holding elections for Congressmen and to punish frauds therein.

NEW ORLEANS NOTES. Latest from the Cotton Valley Disaster—Death of Bishop Wilmer.

National Associated Press to the Star. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3.—The following additional details have been received with reference to the fatal steamboat accident Sunday at Brindley's Point, La.: Twelve persons were drowned and not twenty, as reported yesterday. Rain was pouring in torrents, and the wind blowing a gale, when the boat was wrecked. The wind blowing a gale, when the boat was wrecked. The wind blowing a gale, when the boat was wrecked.

Several passengers leaped into the river and clung to floating freight until picked up by a boat from the Morgan, but a number of others rushed to the shore and were rescued. The Morgan, for help, are described as heart-rending. Among these was Miss Sanford, a girl of sixteen from Louisiana County, Va., on her way to some relatives in Maryland. She was in a state of great excitement, and entered the life-boat thus exposed. Far from on the hurricane deck she stood wringing her hands, when Harry Stiel, clerk of the Morgan, came near in a state of great excitement, and entered the life-boat thus exposed. Far from on the hurricane deck she stood wringing her hands, when Harry Stiel, clerk of the Morgan, came near in a state of great excitement, and entered the life-boat thus exposed.

The passengers known to be lost are Solomon Meyers, Daniel Gehe and Henry Levi, three merchants of Alexandria; J. F. Sudger, of New Orleans, and Miss Sanford. Several other passengers are missing, and at least seven of the crew. A boat of the United States, patrolled both banks of the river until daylight.

The steamer St. Mary reached her landing this morning, having on board the captain, mate and a boy of the lost steamer, Cotton Valley. The steamer Henry Tate, on her way down, also stopped at the scene of the disaster, and picked up a quantity of stuff from the wreck.

Right Rev. Joseph P. B. Wilmer, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Louisiana, died of apoplexy last night in the St. Charles Hotel.

CRIMES CALENDAR. Specials to the Star.

FAMILY FUN. RICHMOND, IND., Dec. 3.—Riley Hyatt, a wealthy farmer, residing near Chester, Wayne County, knocked down his son by a blow over the head with an iron chain.
